Hello everyone,
How wonderful it was to welcome some of our incoming preps last Friday! Our current preps were so experienced at being a prep kid that they pretended to be grade 1 students, and were so helpful orientating the new children. 😊

A firedrill was undertaken on Monday, during play time, and I cannot praise the school enough! So efficiently they made their way to the oval and formed their lines for check-in! Our whole practice was done in less than 3 minutes, including full safety of student and staff movement. Awesome work.

The results of our discipline audit are in, and already published on our website. There is a 5 page profile, where the auditor highlights the sections that apply, and a one page executive summary. This summary outlines commendations, affirmations and then must include recommendations for the school to continue to grow on. These results are moderated by the Auditors, and so findings for our school are in line with expectations for larger or smaller schools. This school has a lot to be proud of. Well done everyone! The parent fact sheet has is published with this newsletter.

Some early organizers are looking for next year’s booklist! This will be sent home with report cards at the end of term, but is currently available on our website.

A wonderful start to Prep.

Last Friday was our first Prep transition day for the Prep class of 2015. The current Prep class played hosts, eagerly practicing their introductory skills, showing the children around the school and assisting them through rotation routines. Mrs Richards and I were very appreciative of their support and proud of each Prep student. They certainly have grown this year.

The class of 2015 was enthusiastic and excited. It was obvious that they had been well prepared by their parents and Kindy teachers for a smooth transition to the Prep Year. We excitedly await the next Transition Day, this Friday 14-11-14.
